DILWORTH OBSEQUIES. Another Utah Pioneer Laid to Rest in The Silent Tomb.

The funeral services over the remains of the late John Taylor Dilworth were conducted Sunday morning, Nov. 12, from the residence of his sister, Mrs. George Nebeker, Elder William W. Riter officiating.

Those who spoke on the occasion were the companions of the deceased, who were associated with him in the earliest days of his pioneer work. They were: William A. Miller, George Nebeker, Angus H. Taylor, all of whom referred to his kindly disposition and his sterling integrity to what he deemed to be his duty to God and to his fellowmen. The opening and closing prayers were made by Bishops Alfred Solomon and John Neff respectively.

The deceased had been a great sufferer during the latter years of his life, having been rendered partially helpless from a stroke of paralysis, which occurred about seven years ago.

The funeral tributes were profuse and very beautiful.

A quartet composed of Messrs. Whitney, Pyper, Spencer and Enderlin rendered feelingly the selection entitled, "We Need Thee Every Hour," "O Love Divine," and "Benedictus of the Weary," which added materially to the impressiveness of the occasion.

The pallbearers were composed of six of the eldest sons of the deceased's sisters, namely: William W. Riter, Chas. Harper, C. D. Brinton, Amos H. Neff, George D. Nebeker and Walter D. Nebeker.

The remains were followed to the cemetery by a large throng of relatives and friends. After the dedicatory prayer, which was offered by Elder John L. Nebeker, the casket bearing the remains was placed in a hearse, and the funeral cortege proceeded to the cemetery, where it was interred in the beautiful lot of his daughter, Mrs. Marion Beattie Edwards, which is very pleasantly situated in the city cemetery, where lies, not far away, the body of his loving wife, Mrs. Josephine Mumford Dilworth, who preceded him some 23 years and who was the mother of his three children, Mrs. Marie Beattie Edwards, Mrs. Fred Russell and John Dilworth, the latter having also preceded him about 25 years.

Holiday Books Now Arriving Daily.

A YEAR ago, believing that the taste for reading and the love of good books was greatly on the increase in our community, we ventured the purchase of a large and varied stock of books, which represented the best and most popular of the products of the leading publishers of America.

Our experiment proved an astonishing success and our confidence in the reading public was not misplaced.

Basing our judgment on the experience of last year, we began early to place orders with all the foremost publishers of the United States for a large stock of the latest and best books of the year.

Our selections embrace a range much larger than ever before, including Art Books, Gift Books in exquisite bindings, Latst Popular Fiction, all the Standard Authors in single volumes and in sets, Juvenile books, Boys' books, Girls' books and toy picture books on linen and paper in endless variety. We are determined to make our book department lead anything of the kind in the country.

It is not too early to buy now as we are opening new stock daily. A good book is always an appropriate gift.

HIS DEATH A MYSTERY.

Decomposed Remains of Private Dines Found at Fort Douglas.

A ghastly discovery was made back of the target range at Fort Douglas Saturday afternoon, by Sgt. Betts of H company. Twenty-ninth Infantry, when he discovered the skeleton of Private William Dines of the same company, who disappeared last July, and had been posted as a deserter. The clothing in which the skeleton was clad identified the remains. The deceased was 55 years of age, and had been very dissipated. At the time of his disappearance Dines took his rifle with him, but this was missing when he was found, and if he had taken any other article of any value it was carried off by some one. He had just re-enlisted in July, and whether the death was one of suicide or accident can hardly be ascertained. Dines was formerly in the Old Soldiers home at Washington, having served in the civil war, but the old white haired veterans made so much fun of him that he left and re-enlisted the service. The remains will be buried today.

Sells More of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than All Others Put Together.

The following letter from a locality where Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is well known shows by the unprecedented demand for it that the medicine sells on its own merit. Mr. Thomas, a merchant at Mt. Elgin, Ontario, says: "I have had the local agency for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy since it was introduced into Canada, and I sell as much of it as I do of all other lines I have on my shelves put together. Of the many dozens sold under guarantee, I have not had one bottle returned. I can personally recommend this medicine as I have used it myself and given it to my children and always with the best results." For sale by all druggists.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

W. C. Jensen Will Have Hearing on Friday Next.

W. C. Jensen, the cashier of McCoy's livery stables, who has arrested recently on the charge of embezzling $500 of election bets in the custody of Dr. Kendall, was arraigned before Judge Diehl this morning. By his attorney, A. Snow, he entered a plea of not guilty and the preliminary hearing was set for Friday, the 17th.
